Transfer to the launch site as the sky shifts from black to deep indigo, then lift off above the Lewa plateau just as the first light catches Mount Kenya's summit. Drift silently over the conservancy's rolling plains — Grevy's zebra herds, elephant families and black rhino all visible from above. After landing, a champagne bush breakfast is served on the plains. After breakfast, saddle up for a horseback safari across Lewa's open plateau, cantering past reticulated giraffe and Grevy's zebra. Return for lunch and rest. In the late afternoon, another game drive explores new corners with a sundowner on the plateau before a bonfire dinner.

After lunch, visit the Lewa Wildlife Conservancy headquarters for a conservation talk and learn about the anti-poaching unit, the sniffer dogs and the rhino monitoring programmes that have made Lewa a global model for conservation. In the late afternoon, another game drive explores new corners of the conservancy, and after dark you experience a night game drive.
